

Biography of
Kenneth L. Wilson

An entrepreneur for life, Kenneth L. Wilson (Ken) founded Wilco Information Management, Inc. in 1984. Wilco provided talented computer-technology consultants to governmental and private organizations. The business was successful for 20 years, and was closed in 2008 in response to the unforgiving demands of a rapidly changing information-technology industry.

Catching the next wave in 2010, Ken launched Sales Jaguar, LLC; a business-technology company that helps organizations implement sales-automation systems using state-of-the-art cloud-computing technology.

A native Clevelander, a graduate of Collinwood High School, Ohio Wesleyan University, and an active member of BDPA since 1980, Mr. Wilson has accumulated over 35 years of experience in the Information Technology (I.T.) industry. In his spare time, Ken enthusiastically volunteers his time to BDPA and several other worthwhile community endeavors.

For additional information contact Ken at kwilson@salesjag.com